Welcome To Megan’s newspaper

The Hamilton family and agents have much to offer us and many secrets. Megan Hamilton, investigative journalist, and wife to AJ Hamilton, has decided to start a newspaper to disclose those secrets.

Each newspaper will discuss a new book in my series based on the Hamilton Family, beginning with Jesse in HIS Desire.

Megan is a pseudonym for me and Helen McNabb, beta reader extraordinaire. We’ve concocted this newspaper to keep your love for HIS alive.

Expect old stuff, new stuff, and previously secret stuff. Interested in something? Send a note to the editor at the email below.

Now, sit back and enjoy. A new issue will be out soon!

The scoop of the day

Inside the HIS Headquarters compound

Have you ever wondered what is behind those massive gates on the Hamilton Investigation and Security, Inc. compound? Well, I’ve been there, and it’s amazing what they have in there. I was first introduced to the compound when AJ was protecting me, but later, you know, after we married and all, well, you know our story, I visit there regularly to meet with Kate Hamilton and find out what’s going on in my man’s life.

The compound is like nothing you’d believe. They have a massive HQ building which houses an armory, gym, locker rooms, war room, computer room, and more. Then, they have an outdoor long-range rifle range, an indoor gun range, a kennel, a training building they regularly blow up and rebuild, barracks for those long night’s (mostly Devon stays there when he’s watching his computers), and they’ve recently added a helo pad.

It’s originally Jesse Hamilton’s property turned into the business property. When he and his brothers began the business, they needed a site and Jesse’s land worked out perfectly. He and Kate still live in the back of the property, far enough from the range, but close enough to the kids’ playhouse where the wives will take turns watching the kids during missions when their men, or the other wives, are gone.

I wish you could see the compound. They’re not open for tours or unannounced visitors, but if they were, it would knock your socks off.

In my future episodes, I’ll talk about the training missions they allowed me to observe. I’m not sure how that building can handle all they put it through.

Until next time, happy reading...

The books based on the Hamilton family and agents

My interview with the author

As odd as it is to read books based on your life, it was even more odd to interview the author as we'd spent months with her interviewing us for our books. Now that the tables have turned, I'm ready to dig into her life.

Megan: Why did you choose to write books based on the Hamilton family?

Sheila: Their stories inspired me. The strength they showed in times of fear and danger drew me into their lives. I couldn't resist writing about Kate and Jesse. After that, I couldn't stop writing about H-I-S.

Megan: What are your plans for the rest of the team?

Sheila: I plan to write a story on each of the agents of H-I-S, but my time to write has shortened, so their stories are taking longer than I had hoped.

Megan: What's something crazy you've done that your readers don't know about?

Sheila: Um, let me think. Okay, here's one thing of many. I bungee jumped in Jamaica.

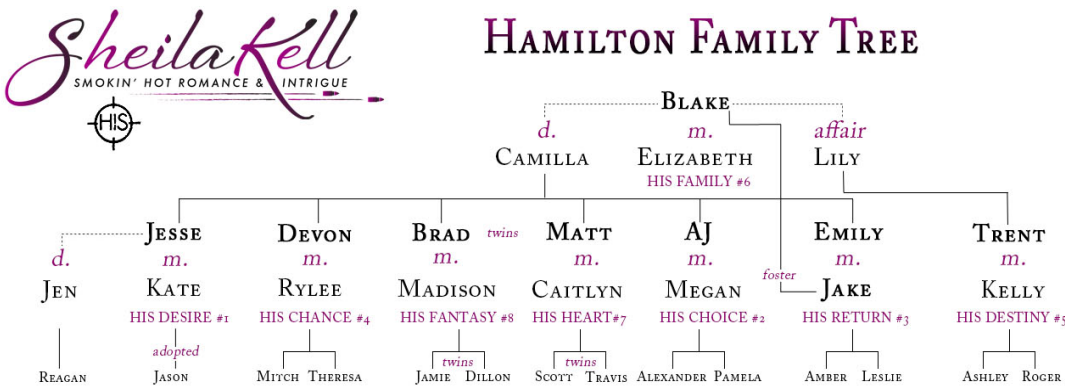

Megan: That's brave enough. Haha. Okay, what else are you working on? Anything other than our family?

Sheila: Yes, I'm working with The Wild Rose Press on a Coastal Investigations series. It's a bit different, but I'm excited about it.

That's all I have for today. Expect an interview with Sheila every newspaper, as we have a lot to learn about her.

Stories of the family

Today, I’m featuring a story about Jason and Reagan, and how they felt about each other during their family book.

“Reagan, when you first met Jason, how did you feel?”

Tears well in Reagan’s eyes. “I was so scared for him. I was afraid he was going to die. I mean, I didn’t even know him, but he seemed important to my family. Uncle Matt said he was in the military with Jason’s dad and that he had died, leaving Jason all alone. I knew we had to do something for him.”

“Ah, brat, I didn’t want you to feel sorry for me.”

“But, Jason, you had leukemia and were going to die.”

“Oh, kiddo, I wasn’t going to die.”

I smile because I know Jason lied to Reagan to keep her from feeling bad. Jason had been near death.

“Yes, you were,” Reagan insisted. “You were on death’s door. I heard my family say so.”

Jason hugs Reagan. “By the time you met me, I was healing. Maybe I was close to death before, but not then, and not since.”

Reagan sniffles as she fights back tears.

“Jason,” I ask to change the subject off Reagan’s feelings, “how did you feel about Reagan when you met her?”

Jason looks off in the distance and smiles. “I fell in love with this imp from the first moment I met her. Don’t get me wrong, I was envious of the family she had. Her and her father were so close that it made me miss my dad.”

“You didn’t fall in love with me when you met me,” Reagan argues. “You were just nice because you were sick.”

Jason smiles and shakes his head. “Brat, I wanted you for a sister the moment I got to know you. You are a sweet kid.” He grins. “When you want to be.”

Reagan stomps her foot. “I’m always good and sweet.”

With a laugh, Jason pulls her back in for another hug. “You’re right, brat. You’re always a sweetheart.”

“I really wish you’d quit calling me brat. It makes me sound bad.”

The closeness of their relationship is evident in all they do and speak. I hope all the Hamilton children are as equally blessed.

Kate and Jesse Hamilton
Their interview by Megan Hamilton

Megan Hamilton

Megan is an investigative reporter who has broken many major stories including the Magician and Magic Shop where she almost lost her life in the process. She is married to AJ Hamilton, has two children, Alexander and Pamela. The family resides in Baltimore, Maryland.

We continued the interview to how they felt about the stories. Kate stated, “Having stories based upon your life feels odd.” Jesse just shook his head and laughed. “It’s surreal.”

When I asked them to tell me about adding Jason to your family, they looked at each other and smiled. “It was a no-brainer,” Jesse eventually said. “The closeness and love Reagan and Jason had told us they needed to be family.”

I’m here today with my brother-in-law, Jesse Hamilton and his wife Kate, formerly Kate Ross. I did not know these two during their time in the HIS Desire storyline, so I’m excited to dig into their secrets.

I laughed at Kate’s first impression of Jesse as it is not the man I know. “Jesse was an arrogant player when I met him,” Kate Hamilton told me. “He had a hard expression and never seemed to laugh,” she continued. “If it hadn’t been his love for his daughter, I wouldn’t have thought he had a heart.”

Jesse bristled at all of this and is still upset with Sheila for writing his character like that. “I find it unfair to be portrayed as such,” he stated. “I was not like that.”

“Yes, you were,” Kate argued. “You were an nothing but an ass with me.”

“Next subject, please,” Jesse requested.

I moved along and we got to family. Jesse has nicknames for his daughter and niece that I love. Pumpkin, for Reagan, and L’il Bit, for Amber, fit them perfectly. He had no secret for coming up with those names. “They just came to me when I met them.”

“Having stories based upon your life feels odd.”

- Kate Hamilton

Before we closed the interview, I circled back and asked them what eventually drew them to each other since they had a volatile first meeting. Kate smiled. “No matter how rude he was, he was devilishly handsome, and I loved his alluring eyes.” Jesse leaned over and sniffed Kate’s neck. “This,” he said. Kate supplied it was Light Blue by Dolce & Gabbana.

Finally, I asked about their future plans. Jesse said they would expand H-I-S to include more agents and a larger compound. They just added a helicopter for Ballpark to fly. Kate, still working with her family company, stated she’d be training the new female agents to incorporate them into the ranks. “It’s all about H-I-S, and family. Jason and Reagan always come first.”
